Biographical Note:

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) was one of the federal agencies supporting the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial. This guide represents the collection of several staffers, departments, and districts as submitted by Richard Fichtler. Mr. Fichtler was the Missoula, Montana Field Office Outdoor Recreation Planner and served as the National Lewis and Clark Bicentennial Coordinator for the BLM.

The BLM's theme for the Bicentennial was "Walking in the Footsteps of Lewis and Clark." The BLM public lands and waters served as the "launching" point for visitors to embark on their own journeys of discovery and served as their "museum without walls." BLM implemented management actions and policies to ensure a tangible, on the ground lasting legacy that perpetuates the journey of discovery for future generations. BLM planning objectives included: Trail Restoration and Protection; Enhancing the Visitor's Experience; Native American Involvement; Access; and, Partnership.

Scope and Contents:

The collection contains materials detailing the BLM's involvement in the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial from the first Lewis and Clark Bicentennial Signature Event "Kick Off" in January, 2003 to pamphlets and booklets that were developed in honor of the bicentennial commemoration. It contains state specific materials (Idaho, Montana, and South Dakota) as well materials surrounding specific events (Clark on the Yellowstone Signature Event). Several books and booklets were added to the library collection. To view these items see accession number 2008.030 in library catalog.

Arrangement:

The BLM Lewis and Clark Bicentennial Papers are arranged into three series. The first series deals with meetings and reports of the National Council of the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial. The second series is material related to BLM involvement in State/Regional Lewis and Clark Bicentennial planning and events. The third series are bicentennial related pamphlets gathered by the BLM.
