Steve Lee to Lead LCTHF as New President

A resident of Clarkston, WA, and financial analyst at Washington State University, Steve has been active in the LCTHF since 1987. He had previously served as vice president and chairman of the Finance Committee and was also involved in planning the LCTHF Annual Meetings in 1990, 2010, and 2014 and Regional Meeting in Orofino, ID, in May 2013. Among Steve's goals for his presidency are to build membership (recruit 150 new members), seek donations for our restricted funds which provide dollars for our trail stewardship and education programs as well as operations, and to emphasize the key role legacy donations play in building capacity. These goals will serve to strengthen LCTHF's fiscal foundation as the organization approaches its 50th anniversary, enabling us to continue our role as the “keepers of the story and stewards of the trail.”

Serving with Steve are Vice President Philippa Newfield of San Francisco, CA; Treasurer John Toenyas of Great Falls, MT; Secretary Barb Kubik of Vancouver, WA; Immediate Past President Margaret Gorski of Stevensville, MT; and Board of Directors Members Lynn Davis of Spirit Lake, IA; Dick Fichtler of Florence, MT; Ella Mae Howard of Miles City, MT; Mark Nelezen of Oshkosh, WI; Clay Smith of Port Townsend, WA; Kris Townsend of Spokane, WA; and Jerry Wilson of Versailles, IN. The Board welcomes new members Karen Goering of St Louis, MO, and Jim Sayce of Seaview, WA, and thanks outgoing members Della Bauer of Omaha, NE, and Sue Buchel of Boise, ID, for their service and commitment to the LCTHF.

The LCTHF Board of Directors Designates Sherman Library's Photographs as the Don Nell Visual Resource Collection as per the recommendation of the LCTHF's Library Committee. Nell, a resident of Bozeman, MT, past president of LCTHF, and leader of the Headwaters Chapter, had worked for well over a decade to gather images related to the Corps of Discovery. He made those images (for which he had permission) available to researchers and interpreters. The Sherman Library staff and volunteers are hoping to re-organize and update his collection and then add new images to over the next several years.

Chapter Roundup

Joan Hockaday Named President of the California Chapter of the LCTHF.

A longtime Lewis and Clark enthusiast, Joan, along with her late husband Peter, an architect by training and watercolorist by talent, is especially interested in the botanical aspects of the expedition. She and Peter prepared the text and illustrations for "Beautiful Blue Camas" in the November 2003 issue of WPO. For two years before the arrival of a British horticultural tour group in 2004, they scouted and sketched sites suitable for their British visitors who were eager to see the Columbia during the Bicentennial. Now, after 20 years in Seattle, Joan has returned to make her home once again in San Francisco. While she expressed surprise at discovering fellow Clarkies in our non-trail state, she is gratified by their support and looking forward to serving with Vice President Barbara Gaitley, Treasurer Keith Kvenvolden, Secretary Mary Ann Kvenvolden, Immediate Past President Philippa Newfield, and Directors at Large Virginia Hammerness, John Hess, Ken Jutzi, and David Smith.

The LCTHF, Fort Mandan Foundation, and National Park Service are teaming up to update the Discovering Lewis and Clark web site. We are discussing the new format, fundraising, and who will be providing articles and adding them to the site. We will keep you informed as a work plan is formalized.

The Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail Interpretive Center is remodeling office space. The new space will include a shared conference room which will double as the volunteer library and have access to the beautiful deck behind the LCTHF office. We are giving up part of our office space which will decrease our rent. The remodel is scheduled to occur this fall.

As we enter the end-of-year giving season, we ask you to remember the LCTHF as you plan your donations. A portion of our budget is funded by your donations. We thank you for your past support and hope we can count on you again this fiscal year!

Discovery Expedition of St Charles (DESC) Seeks Reenactor Volunteers, Friends, and Supporters. To continue the journey, DESC is "Recruiting Men of Character & Honor to Serve in the Corps of Discovery...to Volunteer Demonstrating and Depicting the Journey of Lewis & Clark & the Corps of Discovery." People can carry the legacy of Lewis and Clark forward by joining the DESC in teaching history through living history reenactment for a membership fee of $25.

The DESC is also the only living history group that has crafted replica boats for the longest reenactment journey ever successfully attempted and completed. Over one million visitors have toured their boats, experienced the period campsites, and enjoyed demonstrations of the technology and reenactments. The boats were also the "stars" of the HBO miniseries on Lewis and Clark at the recent filming in Canada. For additional information, please call Sgt Pryor (Norm Bowers) at 314-275-8155 or email him at www.lewisandclark.net.

Partnership for the National Trails System (PNTS) Tracks 2014 Volunteer Hours and Private Contributions to the National Trails System. All the trail stewardship organization partners of the national historic and scenic trails provide critical "civilian" support for the public-private partnerships that characterize the National Trails System. The strong volunteer participation helps leverage federal, state, and local involvement in the trails and strengthens PNTS' national trail advocacy efforts.

The LCTHF and other partners of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail ranked second in the number of volunteer hours recorded at 165,933 hours (after the Appalachian Trail Conservancy at 241,936) out of 28 national historic and scenic trail organizations. However, private contributions of $243,000 ranked the LCTHF and other partners eighth behind the Appalachian Trail ($4,176,000); the Pacific Crest Trail Association ($1,841,100), the Chesapeake Conservancy ($1,787,644), and the Oregon-California Trails Association ($686,060).

Both volunteer hours and private contributions to the LCTHF help to fulfill our joint mission as keepers of the story and stewards of the trail. Equally important, however, is that the combination of our work on behalf of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail and private monetary support demonstrates to Congress that ongoing federal support is crucial to the preservation of this historic, recreational, and cultural treasure. The LCTHF welcomes online contributions and membership dues at www.lewisandclark.org. Donations made in honor and in memory of family and friends will be acknowledged each quarter in We Proceeded On.

Consider joining PNTS and the LCTHF for "Hike the Hill," the in-person lobbying effort in Washington, DC, during the second week of February 2016. For more information on Hike the Hill, please contact Lindy Hatcher at lindy@lewisandclark.org or Gary Werner at gary@pnts.org and 608-249-7870.

National Park Service (NPS) Names Jeff Reinbold as Assistant Director for Partnerships and Civic Engagement. As part of his new position, Reinbold says he will oversee partnerships, all philanthropic stewardship, national trails, wild and scenic rivers, and the hydropower-assistance efforts. He will also be responsible for the Park Service's Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program which supports community-based natural resource conservation and outdoor recreation projects across the country. Reinbold started his NPS career in 1990 as a seasonal ranger at the Johnstown Flood National Memorial. You may reach him at 202-208-3390 or Jeff_Reinbold@nps.gov. Adapted from a January 21, 2015, NPS press release.

Exploring the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail (LCNHT) is Only a Click Away! The LCNHT can now be accessed through a number of different internet portals. Featured are the Interactive Trail Atlas at www.lewisandclarktrailmap.com and an app for a Mobile Trail Atlas at www.lewisandclarktrailmap.mobi which enable visitors to personalize their exploration by zooming into their area of interest, selecting different map "layers," displaying the background of their choice, and even creating their own custom maps. A variety of Story Maps are available through nps.maps.arcgis.com/home, which enables visitors to learn about the stories of the LCNHT through interactive maps and multimedia presentations.

Follow the LCNHT on Facebook at www.facebook.com/lewisandclarknht and Twitter at www.twitter.com/LewisClarkTrail to find out about events, programs, and the latest news from the National Park Service Visitor Center in Omaha, NE, and on the Trail. YouTube at www.youtube.com/lewisandclarknhtnps features videos of Trail staff and partners as they demonstrate what is being done to protect and interpret the Trail.

Obituaries

Remembering John Jackson: The LCTHF received word of the passing of longtime LCTHF member John Jackson. John died peacefully, surrounded by his family, in mid-August. He had fallen and broken his hip in late July; after that, he made the decision to discontinue chemotherapy and to live quietly at home. John wanted his family to share his thoughts: "For over 84 years that old curmudgeon John C Jackson spun a wide loop over the North American fur trade and other subjects. His string ran out on August 15. Didn't we have some high times in the high country?" John was a contributor to We Proceeded On and co-author with Thomas Danisi of Meriwether Lewis (Prometheus Books, 2009). Submitted by Barb Kubik

Remembering Sheila Crowley Robinson: The LCTHF lost a good friend with the passing of Sheila Crowley Robinson, 94. Born in Bismarck, ND, Sheila earned a degree in home economics from Iowa State College in 1942. She married David Marshall Robinson in June 1942 and lived on Coal Harbor Stock Farm, near Riverdale, ND. Their children are Jan Jenson of Matthews, NC, and Matt (Janette) and Steve (Barb) who still live on the ranch. Sheila many LCTHF annual meetings and gave presentations on Lewis and Clark and the building of the Garrison Dam. Her list of published works includes Along the Lewis & Clark Trail in North Dakota and Taming the Big Muddy. Submitted by Tracy Robinson Samuelson

Other News

The "York bronze" of a cowboy on horseback made its way successfully back to the LCTHF headquarters in Great Falls after the 2015 Annual Meeting in Kansas City. Jerry Wilson, our "pony express" rider, picked the statue up from our friend Jim Holmberg at the Filson Society in Louisville, KY, where it had resided since 2010 and brought it to Kansas City. From there our library technician Shelly Kath and her husband Darian transported the statue by car to LCTHF headquarters. York had been designated a "Western Wrangler" by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in 2001. The bronze commemorating this award, which York shares with such current-day luminaries as Sandra Day O'Connor, was given to the LCTHF on York's behalf.

Jerry Wilson hands off the bronze statue to Shelly Kath who returned it to the LCTHF headquarters in Great Falls, MT.

Our Chapters Proceed Online

The LCTHF website has been upgraded to be more compatible with cell phones. Additionally, the home page has been re-designed to encourage first-time visitors to get involved while old-timers can quickly find the information they need. The home page contains no less than 153 hyperlinks to other pages on our site!

Most LCTHF website pages feature pictures of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail and people who are enjoying the trail. The LCTHF website needs more images outside the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana. Can you help?

Specifically, we need:

- Pictures of people who are enjoying the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail.
- Pictures of happy people having fun on Chapter outings, meetings, and events.
- Pictures of Lewis and Clark tourist destinations or natural preserves in your area.

To help:

- Please email your digital photos about the Lewis and Clark Trail to webmaster@lewisandclark.org.
- Include a description of where each photo was taken and of what each photo is.
- If possible, include the year the photo was taken and the name of the photographer.
- Photos need to be original which means owned by you. Please do not send images found on the Internet or sent to you by others.
- I will work with you to make sure all published photos comply with our Intellectual Property and Privacy policies.

When it comes to marketing the Lewis and Clark Trail, our Chapters and the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation, a picture is worth far more than a thousand words! Thanks in advance for your help.
